What are my career opportunities?

The Hospitality sector has undoubtedly been deeply affected by Covid-19. However, industry experts expect that the sector will quickly return to form with a general resurgence in demand for all services within the sector. As the industry returns to its normal vibrancy, extensive career opportunities in the national and international hospitality and tourism sector will establish once again.

What do the programmes offer?

These programmes give graduates an in-depth knowledge and insight into all aspects necessary to develop a successful career within the Hospitality and Tourism sectors and also to manage and run a successful business.

Each programme offers a wide range of modules specifically tailored to the wider hospitality industry with a focus on developing skills in the areas of Management, Communications, Human Resources, Finance, Marketing, IT Skills and Budgeting and Decision Making; all providing the knowledge, skills and competencies required for operational, supervisory and management roles.

Completion of the programmes offers participants a strong foundation in current management practices and trends which allows graduates to contribute to both their own personal achievement, employability, and their potential to contribute to their own community and work environment.

The overall aim of each programme is to prepare students academically and professionally leading to employment at supervisory and management levels in the dynamic world of the hospitality industry. This is achieved through a comprehensive programme designed to be challenging and fulfilling in an environment which focuses on the individual student as an active participant in his or her own learning.

TESTIMONIALS

What our graduates/students say

“As a mature student, I completed TU154 Hospitality Management Studies in 2022. In addition to obtaining a wealth of knowledge on running a business, the programme has been pivotal in my current role as a Catering Manager within Avista. The programme has provided me with confidence to lead a team effectively, whilst increasing both efficiency and profitability. Moreover, I superseded my own expectations by achieving a distinction in my final grades. I now plan to further extend my education with the completion of TU150.” Annette Lythaby, Class of 2022 (Level 6)

“I completed my Hospitality Management Studies in 2019. At the time when attending college, I was the Executive Chef for The Rotunda Hospital but was looking to further my career and go into the management side of things. I had no idea then how much things were going to open up for me. I am now Catering Manager of Marymount Care Centre. In this time, I have also created my own business and website: “Pure Joy - bring joy back to eating.” I would highly recommend this course as it has been invaluable to me in every aspect of my career to date.” Joyce Timmons Class of 2019 (Level 6).
